

Moonlite Productions is a team of dedicated technical professionals with over 20 years experience in the production field. We are highly respected in the industry for our commitment to designing and delivering unparalleled standards of audio visual sets for our clients.

So much is our passion for keeping up to date with every innovation, we own and maintain all our own equipment. This means, unlike many production companies, our clients don't cover the cost for us using a third party supplier. Added to competitive rates, owning our own equipment stock means we can also offer exactly which product is most suited to your event, complete with full specification if required.

Sound

With equipment including Line Array sound systems, we can guarantee perfect sound for up to 30,000 pax with full band infrastructure, for both indoor and outdoor events. Our conference capabilities extend to multi channel radio mics to ensure every speaker is heard.

Lighting

We are Europe's largest stockist of Metalworx trussing which means we can offer simple ground support through to complex flown rigging. Our capabilities range from conferences and TV through to rock and roll. We also have an extensive range of intelligent and moving lighting.

Staging

We can build multi level staging capable of supporting anything from a full orchestra to a car! We also offer a fully covered roof system for outdoor events.

Set Design

All our sets are designed and built in house using a range of materials and finishes. Perfect for conferences and exhibitions, our sets can either be designed bespoke or we offer a range of turn-key packages.

A/V

Cameras, projectors, plasma screens, visions mixers, switching technology - you name it, we own it! We excel at award dinners and conferences by being able to supply equipment which specifically suits your event and venue.

Special Effects

For something a bit special, we are fully qualified to offer in or outdoor pyrotechnics along with search lights, smoke machines and hazers.

And In Addition...

Naturally we have all the capabilities for power distribution and radio or wired communications on an event. If there is something specific you are looking for, but it hasn't been included in this summary, do please let us know.

At Moonlite Productions we also offer a dedicated project management team to work in collaboration with you - and because every member of our team is a production expert, you will receive the benefit of direct knowledge to ensure the smooth execution of any event.
